
Editorial Platform

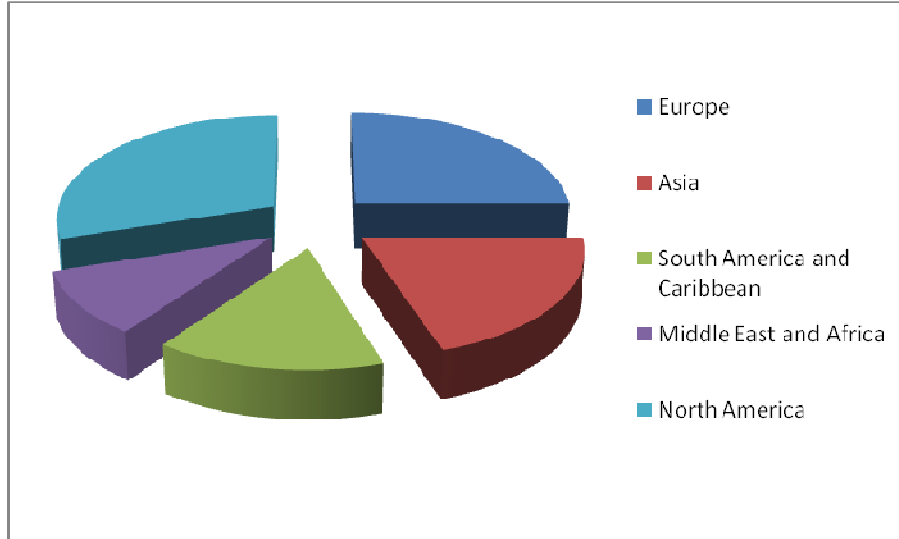

Cargo Security International is read by thousands of transport, cargo and security professionals, and by governments, legislators and defence experts in more than 40 countries. Why? Because it is the ONLY magazine that covers all modes of transportation – maritime and seaports, aviation and airports, road, and rail – but always with a sharp focus on security.

Readership and Circulation

Cargo Security International is published every two months, with an average distribution of 7,000 copies. This figure includes: our paying subscribers; a database of carefully targeted and controlled organisations receiving free copies; and 'bonus distribution' to attendees of major intermodal and cargo security-related events.

Cargo Security International's subscribers include: shipping companies; fleet operators; freight forwarders; international couriers; logistics providers; port authorities; customs services; government ministries; law enforcement personnel; technology providers and industry consultants.

Cargo Security International

2012 Calendar

Cargo Security International is distributed at many industry events every year. The year planner below includes some of the key events which are taking place in 2012. Every issue of the magazine will feature in-depth articles from industry opinion-formers about new developments in the field of cargo scanning, asset tracking and monitoring and security management. In addition, each issue will include a Spotlight focus on a particular theme, and there will also many topical articles that we will be commissioning nearer the time (Please contact the Editor, Ian Taylor, if you would like to contribute).
